

GRIP'S RAVAGES

After-Effects Are Often Worse Than the Trouble Itself.

How They May Be Avoided and Good Health Restored Even When Recovery Seems Hopeless.

All over the country grip has left its mark upon thousands of victims. After every epidemic of this disease there remains behind a trail of after-effects which are often worse than the trouble itself and which seem to baffle all efforts of physicians. Health is shattered—the blood becomes poor, the flesh falls away, the sufferer grows nervous and irritable and even slight exertion causes shortness of breath. These are dangerous symptoms and indicate that the system is in a state that invites pneumonia, bronchitis or even consumption. A specific, however, has been found which not only will quickly restore the health after an attack of grip and expel the lingering germs, but, working through the blood, will render the system proof against the disease. In hundreds of cases it has been shown that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have accomplished this result. One of the many recent cures is that of Mrs. J. B. Shaw, of 2101 Bellefontaine avenue, Kansas City, Mo., who says: "When the grip was epidemic here I was one of its victims and the disease left me in a bad state. I formerly had an excellent memory, but after the attack I could scarcely remember anything. I had severe pains in the top and back of my head and was dizzy by spells. I would lie awake until nearly morning and then fall into a sleep that was restless. My heart action was weak and I was a victim of nervousness. In fact my health was shattered by the attack of the grip and recovery seemed hopeless. "After being afflicted in this manner for several weeks, I happened to read an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Thinking they might do me good, I began taking them at once. In three days I was much better and could sleep like a child at night. After using a box of the pills my memory was restored and I felt greatly encouraged. I continued taking them until I had used three boxes and was in better health than I had enjoyed for several years. "I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to many of my friends and urge all who are suffering from the effects of the grip to use them and drive away the lingering disease from their systems. The after-effects of the grip are sent for reply. I will gladly answer all inquiries relating to my case."

WAYS OF A WIDOW

SHE HAS MARRIED HER FIANCE'S YOUNGER BROTHER

CHICAGO SOCIETY LEADER

She Telegraphed the News From San Francisco and Took Ship for the Philippines.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, April 6.—Mrs. Jean Waldron, a dashing brunette, is speeding over the Pacific with Arundel Van Vliessen, a younger brother of the man she was engaged to marry.
Mrs. Waldron is 40 and plump. She obtained a divorce from Waldron, a druggist, three years ago. Then she took up dramatic reading. She brought Miss Isadora Duncan to Chicago to give a series of dance recitals for the society folks. That was what the women of New York's 400 were doing and Mrs. Waldron followed their example. Peter Van Vliessen, with a large bank account, met her and "liked her very much." Along came Arundel one day. He was president of the Roseland Safety Deposit Co. and was a real estate agent. He had money, but not as much as Peter. He liked Mrs. Waldron, then loved her. Two weeks ago the blinds of her Indiana avenue home were drawn and she left for California. Three days later Arundel closed out his business in Chicago, selling all her property. Then he went away, but no one knew where.
Today came a dispatch from her, dated San Francisco, saying she was married and about to take ship for the Philippines.

HALF MILLION IN ONE DAY

New York Internal Revenue Receipts Swelled by Heavy Payments on Trust Incorporations.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A new record for a day's receipts for internal revenue collection districts has been established at the office of collector Charles H. Treat, of the second district of New York, where $315,385.18 was the total amount received, almost the entire sum being paid for documentary stamps. Nearly 500,000 stamps were disposed of to great corporations with offices in this city.
"Whatever we may say about corporations," said Collector Treat, "they certainly pay a generous part of the taxes of the people. We shall probably receive more than $500,000 from the tax on stocks and bonds of the United States Steel Corporation."
Mr. Treat did not anticipate a noticeable change in the receipts of his office on account of the revised internal revenue tax schedule. About $2,000,000 a year, he thought, would cover the loss which would result from the war tax reduction. He thought that about $750,000 of that sum would be lost to the government through exemption from taxation of medicines and proprietary goods.

IMMIGRANT RECORD BROKEN.

The Rhein Brought in 2449 Passengers in Her Steamer.

NEW YORK, April 6.—All records in immigrant transportation were broken by the North German Lloyd liner Rhein. The Rhein brought 2449 steerage passengers, which establishes a new record by several hundred if the number of immigrants that have been landed at this port by one vessel.
At the immigration station on Ellis Island, on the day the day had been one of the busiest experienced in the last ten years. Besides the Rhein's passengers there were 586 from the White Star liner Germanic, 50 from the steamship Kanamania, and 85 from the Allan Star liner, St. Nevada.
Officials of the bureau said the emigrants were, as a whole, a good lot, being fine specimens physically and in other requirements being above the usual class of persons that are landed on the island.

GUARDED THEIR SALARIES.

Glass Works Employees Made an Armed Sortie Against Brigands.

A warning was telegraphed to the Adolphus Busch Glass Works office in Belleville Friday that plans had been laid to hold up $10,000, Glassworks employees made a reconnaissance in force, and robbed them of nearly $10,000. The manager of the plant, Mr. Hoerner, was the manager of the plant. Every Friday he goes to the First National Bank and draws nearly $10,000 to pay the employees of the plant. He drew the money as usual Friday and loaded it into a cab, and armed with two revolvers started for the office of the company at the western city limits.
In the meantime a message had been telegraphed to the office of the alleged plan to hold up the cab and take the money from Hoerner.
It was feared there was not time in which to get police to the vicinity of the works, so word was sent out to the glass blowers that Manager Hoerner was about to be held up and deprived of their week's wages.
The men seized tools and clubs and obtained repeating rifles and shotguns from the office, and in a short time two hundred men hand ranged themselves along Busch avenue and Main street awaiting the coming of Mr. Hoerner's cab.
When he came he was armed to see nearly all the day force of the plant scattered along the streets to meet him. The men marched back to the works. Mr. Hoerner has no means of knowing whether the warning was given in good faith or was a practical joke.

CITY EMPLOYEES ARE ANXIOUS

Wondering What Changes Will Follow When the New Administration Assumes Control of Departments.

Employees of city departments whose positions are supposed to last for two years to come are anxiously wondering whether they will be permitted to remain in the City Hall for their full terms, or whether some means will be devised by the incoming Democratic administration to dispossess them.
The last change of the party in control at the City Hall occurred when Mayor Waldron took office eight years ago. It recalled that the Waldron administration lost little time in taking possession of the street and health departments, which are supposed to remain unchanged until the middle of the mayor's term. Waldron preferred charges against Health Commissioner Brennan and removed him from office, after which the health department was filled with Republicans. The patronage of the street department, secured without removing Street Commissioner Murphy from office, and he was allowed to serve out his term after which his office force had been discharged to make room for Republicans.
The present heads of departments do not seem to fear that they will be disturbed by the new administration. One of them said Friday that the only way in which the working force of the departments could be changed at present would be by the passage of ordinances declaring the positions vacant and providing a scheme of reorganization. The latest instance of an attempt of this sort was the Meier bill, which was designed to turn the water department over to Mayor Ziegenhain. This bill failed to pass.

KISSING NOT EVIDENCE

NEW YORK JUDGE THINKS IT NOT GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE

SERVANT SAW OSCULATION

This, His Honor Thinks, Grounds for Close Inquiry, but Not for Separation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 6.—"If another man kisses your wife in a public place, for example, but don't think you have grounds for divorce," is the judicial advice of Justice MacLean of the Supreme Court.
Philip G. Springer, turfman, said to be worth $500,000, sued his wife, Olga, for absolute divorce, alleging that she had been kissed on divers occasions by Edgar A. Mayer.
Katie Tyler, a servant in the Springer home, testified that she had seen the two snog and she said that Mayer was a frequent visitor at the Springer home during the husband's absence.
"How frequently did he call?"
"Every night."
"The testimony of the servant," Justice MacLean said, "is a man other than her husband had called frequently in the husband's absence. The defendant called at the same man's apartment at his bidding for articles of clothing. The defendant, she said, saw him kissing the defendant, might occasion inquiry by one entitled to explanations, but not proof of facts warranting a decree of divorce."

WILL BUY NO MORE HORSES

Orders Received From London to Rush All Shipments From New Orleans to South Africa.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The war office in London has cabled its agents in this country to buy no more mules and horses for the South African war, but to hurry all stock now under contract to New Orleans, where it will be put aboard ships as speedily as possible.
Col. de Burgh, the chief of the British army men in the United States, is now in the West, but is expected here in a few days.
May has been set as the time for closing up the business of the shipping of stock from the United States. It is expected that the last animal will be sent to sea by that date. It is believed here that the injunction suit begun by Gen. Pearson of the War army and E. W. Pearson of New York in the United States District Court here last week, to stop the shipping of British representatives deny it.

GIRL'S PARENTS IMPLICATED.

Miss Cottingham's Death Due to Criminal Operation.

PEORIA, Ill., April 6.—Miss Nella Cottingham of Tremont, Ill., died at the Deaconess Hospital in this city Friday, and it is discovered that she was the victim of a criminal operation.
The scandal, so far as unearthed by Coroner Harper's investigation, involves two prominent Peoria physicians, many persons, including the girl's parents and certain hospital authorities, will be brought into the case as accessories to the fact.
The story, as told by Coroner Harper, is the effect that the girl's mother brought her to Peoria early in February, her father having previously made the arrangements. She was taken to a doctor, who treated and operated upon. Her mother remained with her as nurse. Later the girl's condition became extremely serious and she, on March 6, was removed to the Deaconess Hospital, where she died. The body was taken from Peoria to Tremont in the dead of night and buried there.

Denver Tax Reform League Raising a Fund.

DENVER, Colo., April 6.—The Tax Reform League has undertaken to raise a fund of $10,000 for the prosecution of persons accused of frauds in connection with the recent city election and in the employment of city and country officers.
It is proposed that evidence said to have been accumulated by former Mayor McMurtry, Robert Murray and others, and through their watchers at the polling places shall be properly presented to the court.

Gould's 1901 City Directory.
The first St. Louis directory of the new century has just been completed, and it shows that the publishers have not fallen behind the times, but have steadily kept their book on a par with the improvements occurring daily in the city. The quality and weight of paper used in this publication make it much smaller and less cumbersome and the smallness of the book should not be taken as showing a decrease in the amount of information which it contains. It is an improvement in the art of book-making.

Heavily Fined.—Fred De Witt was fined $100 in the Dayton Street Police Court Saturday morning for violating a city ordinance against providing a scheme of reorganization. The latest instance of an attempt of this sort was the Meier bill, which was designed to turn the water department over to Mayor Ziegenhain. This bill failed to pass.

SPIRITUAL AUTHORITY

DR. COCK WANTS TO BE YOUNG GIRL'S GUARDIAN.

HER FATHER REQUESTS IT

The Latter Is Dead and the Message, Says the Doctor, Came From the Great Beyond.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 6.—Dr. George B. Cock claims that he was requested by the girl's father to take charge of her, and that since the father's death he has received communications from the father's spirit, urging him to fulfill his promises made while the father was still living.
Mrs. A. A. Maxim was regularly appointed by the courts to serve as the guardian of Miss Holowell. She took charge of the girl and secured employment for her to take care of some children. Dr. Cock, acting in response to his instructions from spirit sources, went to the girl's place of employment and took her to his own boarding house.
Mrs. Maxim secured police assistance and found the girl once the place of her employment. The girl was turned over to Mrs. Maxim and returned to the place in which she had been employed.
Dr. Cock then brought suit. The suit will be heard today.

DID NOT WOO MISS BURCH

Louis Rilling of St. Louis Says the Fears of a Washington Young Woman Are Without Foundation.

Louis Rilling, clerk at Rilling's Hotel Seventh and Walnut streets, of which his father, David G. Rilling, is proprietor, told the Post-Dispatch Saturday he was astonished to learn that Miss Susie Burch of Ballston, Va., had run away from home for fear her parents would force her to marry him.
"I'm not in love with her," said Rilling, "and I certainly have made no attempt to marry her. I am astonished that my name should be dragged into such an episode as this."

Miss Burch was arrested Friday in Washington, D. C., and taken to the House of Detention. The arrest was made on the request of her mother, Mrs. M. E. Burch, who wired the authorities that her daughter had run away from home.
"The girl is a little over 18, admitted to the authorities that she had left home without her parents' consent and that she would not return."

She said that when she secured her liberty she would go to Pittsburg, where the man she really loved resided. If she went back to Ballston, she said, her parents would attempt to force her to marry a wealthy St. Louis man, whose father, the owner of Rilling's Hotel, died recently, leaving him $25,000 in cash.

"I'm the man the dispatches refer to, but my father is not dead and has not left me $25,000. If Miss Burch's parents were trying to force me to marry her it's a first I heard about."

SAT UP AT HIS OWN INQUEST

Aged Colored Steel Worker, Supposed to Be Dead, Disappointed the Coroner and Jury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BENWOOD, W. Va., April 6.—Joe Polich, a middle-aged ex-slave, came to life last evening while a coroner's jury was holding an inquest over his supposed dead body. While working in the yard of the Wheeling Steel plant he suddenly fell and his fellow workmen believed him dead. His body was carried to the City Hall where Justice Harry Riddle empaneled a jury and took evidence.
He had filled out a blank death certificate and was about to sign it when Polich set up, rubbed his eyes and looked about in dazed sort of way.
Physicians pronounced it an unusual case of suspended animation, resulting from fatigue. Polich is back at his work today.

WOMEN CAN'T GOSSIP

BURGESS MILLER OF HOMESTEAD ISSUES A UNIQUE ORDER.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 6.—Burgess J. Clyde Miller, having suppressed other vice in the town made famous by the strike at the Carnegie steel works in 1902, will try to stop gossiping on the street. He has issued this notice:
"Women out shopping on Saturday night will not be allowed to stop and gossip on the streets in the business section of the town."
The order is looked upon by many as a joke, but the Burgess does not. The order is to be put in force tonight.
Burgess Miller, who was elected in February, is 25 years of age. His first order was against the throwing of burned waste-paper in the street.
He then prohibited the posting of bills on telegraph, telephone and trolley poles. Next he began a vice crusade. Then the police were ordered to arrest all tramps found on the streets. Next he went after the corner loafers, then stray dogs.
Young men can now be seen standing along the curb in the middle of the street, leaning up against someone's show window or blocking a crossing.

IRELAND LOSES POPULATION

Census Taken Sunday Will Indicate a Population for Great Britain of Probably Fifty Millions.

LONDON, April 6.—The census of the United Kingdom, taken last Sunday night, will not be tabulated for some time, but the indications are that the population of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales is more than 50,000,000.
The percentage of increase is less than in the previous decade. Depopulation of rural districts in favor of cities is most marked. Ireland's population is less than it was 10 years ago, and probably lower than at any other time in the nineteenth century.

Ed Adamson, the Louisville wrestler, writes the Post-Dispatch that he would like to meet George Baptiste in St. Louis or Louisville for any sum from $1 to $200. He says he has already challenged Baptiste, but has received no reply to his communication.

Adamson will probably be given a match as Baptiste has expressed a willingness to meet the Kentucky man.

The Newport (Ky.) racing season opened Saturday under auspicious conditions. Over 500 horses are quartered at the course and all the events of Saturday were well filled. W. F. Bruen acted as starter. O. Palmer, Henry M. Queen and M. F. Fowler officiated in the judges' stand.

Owing to the muddy condition of the course the cross-country run of the High School boys, which was scheduled to take place today, was postponed until Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Princeton University's baseball team defeated the Philadelphia National team at Philadelphia Friday by a score of 7 to 2. The college men almost shut out the professionals and but for a misunderstanding would have done so. In the second inning Steinwender, a St. Louis man, and Davis, both of the Princeton team, interfered with each other in getting a fly back of second that looked like a sure out. The ball fell safe and two runs were the result. Meier, another St. Louis boy, was one of the stars of the game and played brilliant ball at first base.

Young, the former Cornell pitcher, practically won the game for the collegians by his splendid work in the box.

Thomas McGowan won Friday night's continuous pool match at the Grand from Frank Dumont, the score at the close standing 15 to 14. The game though close was not as well played as the preceding ones of the match, neither man having a high run. 14. Saturday night Claude White and Jesse Leon will contest.

A. G. Harding and E. L. Morgan have secured a permit to use the old Forest Park 25-mile cycle course for a handicap road race to be run June 8.

Cycling interest in St. Louis has been waning for over two years, but the revival of the racing game in the other parts of the country has induced the two veterans named to endeavor to resuscitate the once famous local event and if the effort is successful the race will once more be made an annual affair.

Special efforts will be made to interest the college teams, and it is proposed to arrange a special prize for college entries making the most points, as was done in the case of cycle clubs in the past.

It is proposed to offer handsome prizes to the winners of the first and second time, and several place rewards will be made. It is expected that the entry blanks will be filled in a few days, and will be given out on application to E. L. Morgan, 3356 Olive street.

CURRENT SPORTING COMMENT

Collegians are surely coming to the front as professional ballplayers. Almost every team in both leagues has one or more members who learned the game at some educational institution. Boston, as is fitting and proper, has no less than six—Brown, Tenney, Gammons, Crolius, Barry and Adams. The Milwaukee team has been practicing at the Grand avenue grounds for the past few days. The members of both teams will be tried out lightly, and all the pitchers will probably be given a chance. The team will line-up as follows:

As a result of the repeated flapping back and forth of the various morally unanchored players of the two big leagues, managers and captains know not where they stand as regards players. The signposts of a ballplayer are doubtless lasting. Team captains, even at this late day, are in some cases uncertain of some of the men signed to play with their teams. Who can say where Willis, Dineen or Sheekard will eventually land? It would be the best thing in the world for the sport if they never landed at all.

There is some talk of blacklisting these players. While this attempt would cost the game many of its best players if enforced this year, it might not be a bad plan to try for the following season. If all magnates had the opinion of Magnate Somers of the American League, no blacklisting would be necessary. Said Mr. Somers, when told of the action of Dineen in jumping his Boston contract, "I want no contract jumpers on my team, and if I could not raise my hands to give a favor to leaving this early. More-over, I want no man on my team that has deserted. If he had told me that he wanted to back out of his contract with me, I would have let him up on the spot. It is barely possible that the great Louis Criger may come back to St. Louis on one of these second jumps. If Criger should do so the local management should refuse to accept him, notwithstanding his claim to be a local man, and all others like him have made his bed and should be made to lie on it."

RESPECT LAWSON'S ENTRY

Englishmen Who at First Sneered at the Crowninshield Yacht Now Acknowledge Its Fine Points.

LONDON, April 6.—When Sir Thomas Lipton recently said that he was chiefly concerned about the Herreshoff boat and knew no reason to count seriously on the chances of the Crowninshield defender, he was merely echoing the opinion, then generally held, of British yachtsmen. It seems now, however, that it is dawning on the experts that the Lawson boat is worthy of more attention than that was previously given to her. The reason for this change of opinion lies chiefly in the remarkable reappearance of Mr. Lawson's yacht with the Shamrock II. Details seem to show that every important novelty in the Watson boat has been duplicated in Mr. Lawson's.
